George W. and Lisa O. Etheridge, Jr. Professor
Department of Information Systems and Operations Management
Warrington College of Business Administration and Hough College of Business
University of Florida, Gainesville, USA
Phone: (352) 392-5946
E-mail: shubho@ufl.edu

Education:

2002 – Doctor of Philosophy (Krannert Graduate School of Management, MIS)
Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana, USA

1993 – Master of Business Administration (PGDM)
Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore, India

1991 – Bachelor of Technology (Electrical Engineering)
Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur, India

Professional Experience:

2017 – present: Professor, ISOM, University of Florida

2010 – 2017: Associate Professor, ISOM, University of Florida

2010 – 2017: Visiting Professor, HSE, Aalto University, Finland

2012 – 2013: Visiting Associate Professor, Hong Kong University

2002 – 2009: Assistant Professor, ISOM, University of Florida

1997 – 2001: Research and teaching assistant, Purdue University

1993 – 1997: Manager, Marketing and Business Consulting, IBM

Research Interests:

Net Neutrality
Information Systems and Public Policy
Offshore Outsourcing of Services
Economic consequences of Information Systems

Teaching Interests:

Management Quantitative Analysis

Business Statistics
Business Database Systems
Systems Analysis and Design
Electronic Commerce
Managing Technology and Change

Intellectual Capital – Software:

Realizing the inefficiency and ineffectiveness of the current tools and methods in mapping a field of study, we have designed and developed KnowledgeMap, a document retrieval tool for exploring communities of research within a scholarly discipline. We demonstrate the application of the tool by mapping the IS discipline based on all publications in the top IS journals from 2005 through 2014 at <http://misknowledgemap.warrington.ufl.edu/>. Our results confirm the potential and the promise of KnowledgeMap in providing a holistic view of the field, identifying active and emergent areas of research, and facilitating the process of finding relevant publications.

Research Impact:

- Ranked 18th among IS researchers worldwide in terms of research productivity during 2009-2011 (measured in terms of the number of publications in the top three journals within the discipline).
- Ranked 64th among IS researchers worldwide in terms of research publications in the top three journals within the discipline.
- My work has been cited over 5100 times overall and 2700 times since 2016.
- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Net Neutrality, IRPN: Innovation & Cyberlaw & Policy, Telecommunications & Regulated Industries, Electronic Shopping & Internet Issues, Other Issues Involving the Sale of Goods or Services to Consumers, eCommerce Research Forum, eBusiness & eCommerce, Information Technology & Systems, Public Choice, Information Systems & Economics, ISN Subject Matter Journals, Information Systems & eBusiness Network, Legislation & Statutory Interpretation, Center for eBusiness Working Paper Series and Information Systems & eBusiness Research Centers Papers. It now figures in the All Time Hits (for all papers in SSRN eLibrary), being one of the top 10 Papers in the areas of Net Neutrality, Electronic Shopping and Internet Issues, Issues Involving the Sale of Goods or Services to Consumers and Information Systems & eBusiness Research Centers Papers. It has been published in Information Systems Research.

- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” has been cited by Google, Inc. as part of their filing to the Federal Communications Commission in support of net neutrality (“In the Matter of Broadband Industry Practices” WC Docket No. 07-52, Comments of Google Inc., by Richard S. Whitt, Esq., Richard S. Whitt, Esq., Washington Telecom and Media Counsel, Google Inc.). An internet search generates about 125,000 web sources citing this paper as of today. The most recent citing was on Trillium Asset Management’s letter to Verizon shareholders to support a proxy vote on April 9, 2012.
- The findings of a research project on net neutrality (“The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective”) was mentioned in many trade journals including Computer World (March 19, 2007), PC World (April 20, 2007) Linux World (March 9, 2007), MarketPlace News (April 6, 2007), Network World (March 9, 2007) and ZDNet Australia (November 17, 2011); news sites including Science Daily (March 7, 2007), ConsumerAffairs.com (March 23, 2007), Europe Intelligence Wire (March 7, 2007), Government Technology (March 8, 2007) and Ars Technica (March 11, 2007); and several prominent online weblogs including Consumers’ Union, Save The Internet, Broadband Reports and others.
- The findings of a research project on net neutrality (“Net Neutrality, Broadband Market Coverage, and Innovation at the Edge”) was featured in BusinessWeek (June 8, 2012). It has been published in Decision Sciences.
- The research paper “Cloud Computing – A Business Perspective” was the most downloaded paper of 2013 in the journal Decision Support Systems. It has been cited over 2100 times as per Google Scholar.
- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” was a required reading and part of the syllabus of the doctoral seminar on Information Systems at the University of California, Irvine in Spring 2009.
- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” was a required reading and part of the syllabus of the doctoral seminar on Information Systems at the University of Texas at Dallas in Spring 2009.
- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” was a required reading and part of the syllabus of the course IS250 (“Computer-Based Communications Networks and Systems”) at the University of California at Berkeley in Spring 2011.
- The research paper “The Debate on Net Neutrality – A Policy Perspective” was a required reading and part of the syllabus of the doctoral seminar on Information Systems at the University of Texas at Arlington in Spring 2012.

- The working paper, “Equilibrium Returns Policies in the Presence of Supplier Competition” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Game Theory and Bargaining Theory, Business-to-Business Marketing and Managerial Marketing. The manuscript has published in Marketing Science.
- The working paper, “An Analysis of the Adoption of Digital Health Records under Switching Costs” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Government Expenditures and Health. The manuscript has been published in Information Systems Research.
- The working paper, “Net Neutrality, Broadband Market Coverage and Innovation at the Edge” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Net Neutrality, Economics of Networks, Information Systems & Economics, eBusiness & eCommerce, Networks, Information Technology & Systems, Production, Market Structure & Pricing, Firm, Other Firm, Information Systems & eBusiness Research Centers Papers, Electronic Shopping & Internet Issues, Other Issues Involving the Sale of Goods or Services to Consumers, Entrepreneurship, Innovation, & Growth and Public Choice. The manuscript has been published in Decision Sciences.
- The working paper, “Net Neutrality and Vertical Integration of Content and Broadband Services” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Net Neutrality, Networks, eBusiness and eCommerce, Information Technology and Systems, Information Systems & eBusiness Research Centers Papers, Information Systems and Economics, Telecommunications & Network Models, Public Choice, Electronic Shopping & Internet Issues, Production, Market Structure & Pricing and Other Issues Involving the Sale of Goods or Services to Consumers. The manuscript has been published in the Journal of Management Information Systems.
- The working paper, “Broadband User Discrimination and the Net Neutrality Debate” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Firm Behavior, Innovation, Productivity, Technology, IO: Productivity, Innovation & Technology, Information Systems & Economics, IO: Theory and IO: Empirical Studies of Firms & Markets. The manuscript has been published in Production and Operations Management.
- The working paper, “Cloud Computing: The Business Perspective” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the areas of Information Technology and Systems, Information Systems and eBusiness Network, Innovation & Information Management (Topic) and Innovation & Management Science eJournal, ISN Subject Matter eJournals, Accounting Technology & Information Systems, Information Systems: Behavioral and Social Methods and ARN Subject Matter eJournals. The manuscript has been published in Decision Support Systems.

- The working paper, “On the Potential Role of Independent Personal Health Record Platforms in the Digitization and Sharing of Health Records” was one of the top ten downloaded manuscripts from the Social Sciences Research Network (SSRN) in the area of Information Systems & Economics, Government Expenditures & Health, Health Economics, EPRN: Public Policies (Social) and ERPEN: Social Enterprise. The manuscript has been published in Information Systems Research.
- The findings of a joint research project with the Center for Education and Research in Information Assurance and Security (CERIAS) of Purdue University was mentioned in the trade journal Computer World as a blueprint for information security in organizations. The research paper was published in the Communications of the ACM.
